

SurModics Appoints Andy LaFrence as Chief Financial Officer

December 21, 2012

EDEN PRAIRIE, Minn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec. 21, 2012-- SurModics, Inc. (Nasdaq:SRDX), a leading provider of surface modification and in vitro diagnostic technologies to the healthcare industries, today announced the appointment of Andy LaFrence as the company's Vice President of Finance and Chief Financial Officer, effective February 12, 2013. He will lead all of the financial activities of SurModics, including controlling, financial planning and analysis, treasury, tax, audit and investor relations. LaFrence will succeed Timothy Arens, who currently serves as interim Chief Financial Officer. Arens will remain with the company and will transition into the role of Vice President of Corporate Development and Strategy. In his new role, Mr. Arens will lead the company's efforts in developing strategies and assessing growth opportunities for its Medical Device and In Vitro Diagnostics businesses.

"Andy will be a tremendous addition to our executive team," said Gary Maharaj, President and Chief Executive Officer, noting that "his extensive financial experience, sound business judgment, leadership and strong knowledge of the medical device and healthcare space will help guide SurModics through our next stage of growth. I would also like to thank Tim for all of his exemplary work as interim Chief Financial Officer and look forward to his continuing contributions to SurModics' success in this important new role."

LaFrence is a certified public accountant and has over 25 years of finance and management experience. Most recently, he served as Chief Financial Officer of CNS Therapeutics, which was recently acquired by Covidien. Prior to that, he was an audit partner at KPMG, where he focused on supporting public and private, high-growth medical technology, pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies.
